

Nexus Employee Handbook. Chapter One: Remote Work Policy.

Employees may work remotely up to three days per week, subject to manager approval and team coverage requirements. Remote work arrangements must be documented in the HR system before the first remote day. Employees are expected to remain reachable during core hours, which run from ten in the morning to four in the afternoon in their local time zone. Any exception to core hours must be approved in advance by a direct manager.

Equipment provided for remote work remains company property and must be returned upon termination of employment. Employees are responsible for maintaining a secure home network and must not connect company laptops to public, unsecured wireless networks without an active VPN connection. Violations of this policy may result in revocation of remote work privileges.

Chapter Two: Expense Reimbursement.

All business expenses must be submitted through the expense portal within thirty days of the purchase date. Receipts are required for any expense over twenty five dollars. Meals during business travel are reimbursed up to a daily cap that varies by destination city. Alcohol is not reimbursable under any circumstance, including client dinners, unless explicitly pre-approved by a vice president.

Mileage for personal vehicle use on company business is reimbursed at the standard rate published annually by the finance team. Employees who fail to submit expenses within the thirty day window may have their reimbursement request denied without an approved exception from their manager.

Chapter Three: Time Off.

Full time employees accrue paid time off starting on their first day of employment. Unused time off may be carried over into the next calendar year up to a maximum of forty hours. Requests for time off longer than five consecutive days should be submitted at least two weeks in advance where possible.
